CAMPBELLSVILLE, KENTUCKY - A RESOURCE PROFILE

Campbellsville, the county seat of Taylor County, is the home of Campbellsville College. The city is located 82 miles southwest of Lexington, Kentucky; 85 miles southeast of Louisville, Kentucky; 158 miles northeast of Nashville, Tennessee; and 164 miles southwest of Cincinnati, Ohio. In 1988 Campbellsville had an estimated population of 10,130 persons.

Taylor County, with a land area of 270 square miles, is located in the Mississippian Plateaus area of south-central Kentucky. The county had a 1988 estimated population of 21,800 persons.

The Economic Framework - The total number of Taylor County residents employed in 1988 averaged 10,670. Manufacturing firms in the county reported 4,970 employees; wholesale and retail trade provided 1,639 jobs; 687 people were employed in service occupations; state and local government accounted for 1,024 employees; and contract construction firms provided 196 jobs.

Labor Supply - There is a current estimated labor supply of 11,935 persons available for industrial jobs in the labor market area. In addition, from 1989 through 1993, 6,956 young persons in the area will become 18 years of age and potentially available for industrial jobs.

Transportation - Campbellsville is served by U.S. Highway 68 and Kentucky Route 55, both AAA-rated highways. Kentucky Routes 70 and 210, AA-rated highways, and Kentucky Route 208 also serve Campbellsville. Fifteen trucking firms provide service to Campbellsville, with one firm maintaining a terminal in the city. CSX Transportation provides rail service to Campbellsville. The Taylor County Airport, a local airport one mile northeast of the city, has a 5,000-foot paved runway. The nearest scheduled commercial airline service is available at Bluegrass Airport near Lexington, 77 miles northeast; and Standiford Field, 80 miles northwest.

Power and Fuel - Electric power is provided to Campbellsville and parts of Taylor County by the Kentucky Utilities Company. Taylor County is also provided electric power by the Taylor County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation. Campbellsville is provided natural gas service by the Western Kentucky Gas Company.

Education - Primary and secondary education in Campbellsville and Taylor County is provided by the Campbellsville Independent and Taylor County School Systems. Both school systems are accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Campbellsville College is a coeducational senior college of the liberal arts and sciences. The college confers associate and bachelor degrees. There are five additional colleges and universities within 60 miles of Campbellsville and two major state universities within 86 miles. The Green County Area Vocational Education Center in Greensburg, 11 miles southwest of Campbellsville, and the Elizabethtown State Vocational-Technical School, 42 miles northwest offer vocational training to area residents.

Vocational Training

Vocational training is available at both the state vocational-technical schools and the area vocational education centers. The state vocational-technical schools are post-secondary institutions. The area vocational education centers are designed to supplement the curriculum of high school students. Both the state vocational-technical schools and the area vocational education centers offer evening courses to enable working adults to upgrade current job skills.

Arrangements can be made to provide training in the specific production skills required by an industrial plant. Instruction may be conducted either in the vocational school or in the industrial plant, depending upon the desired arrangement and the availability of special equipment.

Bluegrass State Skills Corporation

The Bluegrass State Skills Corporation, an independent public corporation created and funded by the Kentucky General Assembly, provides programs of skills training to meet the needs of business and industry from entry level to advanced training, and from upgrading present employees to retraining experienced workers.

The Bluegrass State Skills Corporation is the primary source for skills training assistance for a new or existing company. The Corporation works in partnership with other employment and job training resources and programs, as well as Kentucky's economic development activities, to package a program customized to meet the specific needs of a company.

RECREATION

Local

Campbellsville has excellent recreational facilities, which include several parks. Miller Park is a 65-acre scenic park, which features baseball and softball fields, tennis courts, a basketball court, children's playground, horseshoe pits, croquet area, and a par 3 golf course. A stream meanders through the park, and various picnic facilities are located near the stream. The facilities provide a 50 x 100 meter swimming pool, with a 25-meter off-set diving area, and a bathhouse. A new little league baseball field has recently been completed and a model airplane flying field has been designated.

The City-County Park, just on the outskirts of the city limits, features baseball and softball fields, which are used for many high school games, independent league games, and church games. The baseball field is the home field for Campbellsville College.

The Taylor County Park, located at the Green River Reservoir, contains 486 acres. A sand beach, covered picnic area, marina, campsites, and boat launching ramps all make this park one of Central Kentucky's most outstanding attractions.

Green River Lake State Park, 3 miles south of Campbellsville, encompasses 1,300 acres surrounding an 8,200-acre lake. The park is open year-round and offers 96 campsites, a beach, marina, fishing, and picnic areas.

Other recreational facilities include a 20-lane bowling alley; a 18-hole golf course and swimming pool at the Campbellsville Country Club; and the City Lake, where fishing is excellent. Campbellsville College has a tennis court, indoor pool, and organized physical fitness programs for the entire family.

COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENTS

Recent

Campbellsville was re-certified as a Kentucky Certified City in 1989, and received the Silver Award for being re-certified for three consecutive years. Re-certification is based on achievement in the following areas: existing industry assistance, small business assistance, educational resources, and community development factors of health care, public safety, arts and culture, recreation, governmental awareness, and resources. The Certified Cities program is sponsored by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Expansions have occurred in 1989 at Campbellsville Industries, Cox Interiors, Ingersol Rand Company, and Parker-Kalon.

The Campbellsville Independent School System has invested $205,000 in computers for the elementary and middle school. Two learning laboratories have also been added to the school system. A $500,000 expansion of the junior high school was completed in the fall of 1989.

Campbellsville College has recently begun an evening degree program. In addition, the college theater and several classrooms have been renovated. A football program has also been added. The college library is the first private college in the state to have an automated library catalog.

Cox Interiors has begun using a dry kiln to process wood in-house instead of shipping it out of state to be dried. This process adds value to the product.

Road improvements have been made to Highway 210, which included the addition of a third lane and improvements to Highway 68 between Campbellsville and Greensburg are scheduled to begin in the near future.

A major eye care facility has opened in Campbellsville. The Eye Institute of Central Kentucky provides a wide range of services from cataract surgery to making eyeglasses. There are three optometrists; 1 ophthalmologist, and several registered nurses and optical technicians on staff. The Eye Institute serves fifteen Kentucky counties.

Underway

Campbellsville has received a $728,000 Community Development Block Grant to implement a water line expansion program. A Farmers Home Loan is expected to bring the total funding for the project to $1.6 million. In addition to providing service to nearly 300 new customers, the project will also provide fire protection through the installation of 20 fire hydrants.

The city of Campbellsville is currently upgrading sidewalks in the downtown area, adding new street lights, and several storefronts have been renovated.

The Taylor County School System is currently remodeling the elementary school. This $3.5 million project will add a new heating and cooling system, a new cafeteria, restrooms, special needs classrooms, remodel the library and gym, and install energy efficient features. Two additional classrooms have been added to the Taylor County High School and a Vocational Entrepreneur Greenhouse Project will be implemented at the high school by 1990.

Phase I of the construction of a parallel taxiway has been completed at the Taylor County Airport. The second phase is scheduled to be underway by the spring of 1990.
